2022

WELCOME

You have just joined a dedicated team at Care Indeed Home Health Care, also referred to here as CIHHC or Care Indeed. We are pleased you have joined us, and we hope your employment will be rewarding. Whether you are a new or long-time employee, we think you will find your future at the Company to be full of challenges, opportunities, and new friends.

From the moment we first had an idea for founding our San Francisco Bay Area in-home care company, our top priority has been to make a better world for seniors and caregivers. How we go about that today is more sophisticated than it was over a decade ago when we launched Care Indeed; however, the value we place on compassion, authenticity, respect, and excellence in our work has never wavered.

As an employee of Care Indeed Home Health Care, we hope this handbook will help you by providing important information about the Company policies and procedures. The provisions of this Handbook are not intended to create contractual obligations with respect to any matters it covers nor is this handbook intended to create a contract guaranteeing that you will be employed for any specific time period. If you have any questions that are not answered here, please contact Human Resources.

Please take the time now to read this employee handbook carefully. Sign the acknowledgment at the end to show that you have read, understood, and agreed to the contents of this handbook, which sets out the basic rules and guidelines concerning your employment. This handbook supersedes any previously issued handbooks or policy statements dealing with the subjects discussed herein. The Company reserves the right to interpret, modify, or supplement the provisions of this handbook at any time.

Please understand that no employee handbook can address every situation in the workplace. If you ever have questions about your employment, you are encouraged to ask them. If you have any difficulty reading or understanding any of the provisions of this handbook, please contact Human Resources.

Likewise, if you have any suggestions related to Company policies or procedures, please let us know. We wish you success in your employment here at Care Indeed!

"How we treat each other matters more than anything. Kindness is a workplace policy at Care Indeed: the kindness to care for clients with respect and compassion; the kindness to create a company that treats caregivers like family while helping us all to grow professionally and personally. This is how Care Indeed makes a difference in today's world—one client and one caregiver at a time."

Co-Founder and Chief Operating Officer

ABOUT THE COMPANY

Care Indeed Home Health Care provides client-focused services in the California Bay Area. We are a unified group of relationship-focused teams. We empower the continuous improvement of Care Indeed's ability to create a better world for seniors and caregivers through comprehensive care solutions that support our clients throughout the aging process. Encompassing both the non-medical side of home care as well as medical home health care, we offer a broad range of short or long-term personalized solutions to assist clients through every step of their health journey.

One of the things Care Indeed's founders learned from being caregivers is the importance of teaching, supporting, and encouraging their caregivers to enjoy their role and do it well. All CIHHC's care providers undergo a stringent hiring process and receive in-depth training. They are employees who are bonded and insured. They are covered by workers' compensation, and they receive competitive pay, health insurance, paid sick leaves, and due recognition.

OUR MISSION AND VISION

MISSION STATEMENT

To provide patient-centered services that engage patients in every aspect of their health care continuum; and to create a therapeutic alliance with our patients that is central to supporting them in achieving their goals.

VISION STATEMENT

We strive to be one of the leading providers of a wide range of quality home health care services, recognized for enduring dedication to provide innovative, professional, and compassionate care to the communities we serve.

PHILOSOPHY

Our goals and services are based on two fundamental philosophical principles: the belief in the innate worth of individuals and the belief that each individual, regardless of age, race, color, creed, sex, or national origin is entitled to maximize his potential as a human being and as a member of society.

EMPLOYMENT POLICIES

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYMENT

CIHHC provides equal employment opportunities to all employees and applicants for employment without regard to race, color, creed, ancestry, national origin, citizenship, sex or gender (including pregnancy, childbirth, and pregnancy-related conditions), gender identity or expression (including transgender status), sexual orientation, marital status, religion, age, disability, genetic information, service in the military, or any other characteristic protected by applicable federal, state, or local laws and ordinances. Equal employment opportunity applies to all terms and conditions of employment, including hiring, placement, promotion, termination, layoff, recall, transfer, leave of absence, compensation, and training.

CIHHC expressly prohibits any form of unlawful employee harassment or discrimination based on any of the characteristics mentioned above. Improper interference with the ability of other employees to perform their expected job duties is not tolerated.

CIHHC will endeavor to make reasonable accommodation of an otherwise qualified applicant or employee related to an individual's physical or mental disability, sincerely held religious beliefs and practices, and/or any other reason required by applicable law unless doing so would impose an undue hardship upon Care Indeed's business operations.

Any employees with questions or concerns about equal employment opportunities in the workplace are encouraged to bring these issues to the attention of the HR manager. The company will not allow any form of retaliation against individuals who raise issues of equal employment opportunity. Employees who feel they have been subjected to any such retaliation should bring it to the attention of the HR manager.

Retaliation means adverse conduct taken because an individual reported an actual or a perceived violation of this policy, opposed practices prohibited by this policy or participated in the reporting and investigation process described below.

“Adverse conduct” includes but is not limited to:

- (1) Shunning and avoiding an individual who reports harassment, discrimination, or retaliation.
- (2) Express or implied threats or intimidation intended to prevent an individual from reporting harassment, discrimination, or retaliation; or
- (3) Denying employment benefits because an applicant or employee reported harassment, discrimination, or retaliation or participated in the reporting and investigation process.

Other examples of retaliation include firing, demotion, denial of promotion, unjustified negative evaluations, increased surveillance, harassment, and assault.

Complaints of discrimination should be filed according to the procedures described in the Harassment and Complaint Procedure.

COMMITMENT TO DIVERSITY, EQUITY, AND INCLUSION

CIHHC is run by a diverse and inclusive community of passionate people who are creating a better place. We are committed to workforce diversity, creating equity across our systems, and fostering and advancing a culture of inclusion. Our diversity initiatives and strategies are designed to attract, develop, and advance the most talented individuals regardless of their race, color, age, gender, sexual orientation, disability status, or any other dimension of diversity.

EMPLOYEE RESPONSIBILITIES:

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) is everyone’s responsibility at Care Indeed. It requires purposeful action every day. Every employee is responsible for:

- Respecting the dignity and diversity of all people.
- Creating an inclusive environment that is free from discrimination, harassment, and bullying.
- Enhancing employee awareness of potential unconscious bias and how that might hinder our ability to be more inclusive and collaborative with one another.
- Focusing on conscious inclusion to be more intentional with employee actions to drive diversity, equity, and belonging.
- Committing to an individual goal as part of setting annual goals and objectives to help.
- Care Indeed meets our DEI responsibilities.

MANAGER'S RESPONSIBILITIES

Additionally, people leaders are accountable for specific DEI responsibilities and for achieving DEI outcomes as part of their job performance. These responsibilities include but are not limited to:

- Ensuring that employment-related decisions are free from discrimination.
- Setting individual DEI goals to foster diverse representation and an inclusive environment within their teams.
- Engaging in conscious inclusion and other behaviors that promote equity.
- Mitigating potential unconscious bias in employment decisions and talent practices (including performance and development, compensation, and hiring).
- Drawing from a broad pool of talent in a region to reach outstanding talent inclusively, create diverse slates, and, ultimately, a workforce that reflects the communities we serve.
- Providing reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with a disability and to those with needs related to their religious observance or practices in recognition of personal religious expression. What constitutes a reasonable accommodation depends on the facts and circumstances and is addressed on a case-by-case basis.
- Cultivating a culture that inspires respect for all employees, customers, vendors, contractors, and others in the work environment.
- Contacting Human Resources Department– Immediately inform Human Resources upon receiving a complaint or information about an employee who may be subject to discrimination, harassment, or bullying.
- Appropriately addressing any other behavior not consistent with this or other policies and applicable laws relating to equal opportunity, diversity, equity, or inclusion.

VOLUNTARY AT-WILL EMPLOYMENT

Care Indeed Home Health Care is an at-will employer. This means that regardless of any provision in this Employee Handbook, either you or the company may terminate the employment relationship at any time, for any reason, with or without cause or notice. Nothing in this Employee Handbook or in any document or statement, written or oral, shall limit the right to terminate employment at will.

No officer, employee, or representative of the company is authorized to enter into an agreement – express or implied – with any employee for employment for a specified period of time unless such an agreement is in a written contract signed by an officer of the company.

GUIDELINES FOR VOLUNTARY RESIGNATION

1. If employees decide to leave us, we ask them to provide their supervisor with at least two weeks' advance written notice. Their thoughtfulness is appreciated and will be noted favorably should you ever wish to reapply for employment with the company.
2. Employees, who are rehired following a break in service greater than 12 months from the previous separation, other than an approved leave of absence are considered new employees from the effective date of their reemployment for all purposes, including the purposes of measuring benefits.
3. Our company does not provide a "letter of reference" to former employees. Generally, we will confirm upon request our employees' dates of employment and job title.
4. Additionally, all resigning employees are invited to complete a brief exit interview prior to leaving. All company property, including this Employee Handbook, must be returned upon discharge. Otherwise, the company may take action to recoup any replacement costs and/or seek the return of company property through appropriate legal recourse.
5. You should notify the company if your address changes during the calendar year in which discharge occurs so that your tax information will be sent to the proper address.

INVOLUNTARY SEPARATION

Employees whose services are terminated by disciplinary action or for just cause are not eligible for rehire.

Evidence of the following may result in immediate termination:

1. Dishonesty
2. Theft
3. Incompetence
4. Racial intolerance
5. Failure to obey reasonable instructions
6. Reporting to work intoxicated or under the influence of a controlled substance
7. Failure to notify the employer of absence from work
8. Insubordination
9. Client abuse or misuse
10. Profanity
11. Falsification of records
12. Giving confidential information pursuant to California Law
13. Violation of patient rights pursuant to California statutes
14. Violence on premises

All of the above conditions are grounds for immediate termination. No employee shall be suspended, demoted or dismissed without sufficient cause. If after proper investigation it is verified that an employee has been suspended unjustly, he or she will be reinstated and compensated for time lost. In the case of a dismissal, the employee affected may request and shall receive from the employer in writing the reason for the dismissal.

SICK CALLS

Employee health is important to us and we encourage employees to stay home when they are sick, both to protect their own health and that of their coworkers and clients. If an employee cannot make it to a scheduled visit/shift, a call must be made to the Care Indeed Home Health Care staffing team at (650) 379-6015 24 hours prior to the scheduled shift. Sick calls/canceled visit messages are not to be left on voicemail. The late notice is grounds for disciplinary action and possible termination if repeated.

STAFF REPLACEMENT

If your replacement staff is five (5) minutes late, please call the office. We will make every effort to locate the staff and call you back with an explanation and/or substitute. You are required to remain with the client until arrangements can be made.

EMPLOYEE HEALTH

If you become ill while on duty, call us immediately. We expect you to stay with the client until other arrangements can be made for you. In case of emergency, call 911.

INCIDENT REPORTING

If there is an accident which is any unexpected event that results in injuries, you (or the client) must call the office immediately.

JOB DESCRIPTION

The company maintains a job description for each position in the company. The job description outlines the essential duties and responsibilities of the position. When the duties and/or responsibilities of a position change, the job description is revised to reflect those changes. If you have any questions or wish to obtain a copy of your position's job description, please see your supervisor.

AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT AND REASONABLE ACCOMMODATION

CIHHC is committed to the fair and equal employment of individuals with disabilities under the ADA. It is Care Indeed's policy to provide reasonable accommodation to qualified individuals with disabilities unless the accommodation would impose an undue hardship on the company. Care Indeed prohibits any harassment of, or discriminatory treatment of, employees based on a disability or because an employee has requested a reasonable accommodation.

In accordance with the ADA, reasonable accommodations will be provided to qualified individuals with disabilities to enable them to perform the essential functions of their jobs or to enjoy equal benefits and privileges of employment. An employee with a disability may request accommodation from the HR department and engage in an informal process to clarify what the employee needs and to identify possible accommodations. If requested, the employee is responsible for providing medical documentation regarding the type of possible accommodations. All information obtained concerning the medical condition or history of an applicant or employee will be treated as confidential information, maintained in separate medical files, and disclosed only as permitted by law.

It is the policy of Care Indeed to prohibit harassment or discrimination based on disability or because an employee has requested a reasonable accommodation. Care Indeed prohibits retaliation against employees for exercising their rights under the ADA or other applicable civil rights laws. Employees should use the procedures described in the Harassment and Complaint Procedure to report any harassment, discrimination, or retaliation they have experienced or witnessed.

HARASSMENT AND COMPLAINT PROCEDURE

It is Care Indeed's policy to prohibit intentional and unintentional harassment of or against job applicants, contractors, interns, volunteers, or employees by another employee, supervisor, vendor, customer, or a third party based on actual or perceived race, color, creed, religion, national origin, ancestry, citizenship status, age, sex or gender (including pregnancy, childbirth, and pregnancy-related conditions), gender identity or expression (including transgender status), sexual orientation, marital status, military service and veteran status, physical or mental disability, genetic information, or any other characteristic protected by applicable federal, state, or local laws. Such conduct will not be tolerated by Care Indeed.

Furthermore, any retaliation against an individual who has complained about sexual or other harassment or retaliation against individuals for cooperating with an investigation of a harassment complaint is similarly unlawful and will not be tolerated. Care Indeed will take all reasonable steps necessary to prevent and eliminate unlawful harassment.

Definition of “unlawful harassment”. “Unlawful harassment” is conduct that has the purpose or effect of creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work environment; has the purpose or effect of substantially and unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance, or otherwise adversely affects an individual's employment opportunities because of the individual's membership in a protected class.

Unlawful harassment includes, but is not limited to, epithets; slurs; jokes; pranks; innuendo; comments; written or graphic material; stereotyping; or other threatening, hostile, or intimidating acts based on race, color, ancestry, national origin, gender, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, religion, age, disability, veteran status, or another characteristic protected by state or federal law.

Definition of “sexual harassment.” While all forms of harassment are prohibited, special attention should be paid to sexual harassment. “Sexual harassment” can include all of the above actions, as well as other unwelcome conduct, and is generally defined under both state and federal law as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature whereby:

- Submission to or rejection of such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of any individual's employment or as a basis for employment decisions.
- Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work environment.

Other sexually oriented conduct, whether intended or not, that is unwelcome and has the effect of creating a work environment that is hostile, offensive, intimidating, or humiliating to workers may also constitute sexual harassment.

While it is not possible to list all those additional circumstances that may constitute sexual harassment, the following are some examples of conduct that, if unwelcome, may constitute sexual harassment depending on the totality of the circumstances, including the severity of the conduct and its pervasiveness:

- Unwanted sexual advances, whether they involve physical touching or not;
- Sexual epithets; jokes; written or oral references to sexual conduct; gossip regarding one's sex life; comments about an individual's body; and comments about an individual's sexual activity, deficiencies, or prowess;
- Displaying sexually suggestive objects, pictures, or cartoons;
- Unwelcome leering, whistling, brushing up against the body, sexual gestures, or suggestive or insulting comments;
- Inquiries into one's sexual experiences; and
- Discussion of one's sexual activities.

All employees should take special note that, as stated above, retaliation against an individual who has complained about sexual or other harassment and retaliation against individuals for cooperating with an investigation of sexual or other harassment complaints violate Care Indeed's policy.

COMPLAINT PROCEDURE

If you believe you have been subject to or have witnessed unlawful discrimination, including sexual or other forms of unlawful harassment, or other inappropriate conduct, you are requested and encouraged to make a complaint. You may complain directly to your immediate supervisor or department manager, the HR Manager, or any other member of management with whom you feel comfortable bringing such a complaint. Similarly, if you observe acts of discrimination toward or harassment of another employee, you are requested and encouraged to report this to one of the individuals listed above.

All complaints will be investigated promptly, and confidentiality will be protected. A timely resolution of each complaint will be reached and communicated to the parties involved.

If the investigation confirms conduct that violates this policy has occurred, Care Indeed will take immediate, appropriate, corrective action, including discipline, up to and including immediate termination.

No reprisal, retaliation, or other adverse action will be taken against an employee for making a complaint or report of discrimination or harassment or for assisting in the investigation of any such complaint or report. Any suspected retaliation or intimidation should be reported immediately to one of the persons identified above.

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST AND CONFIDENTIALITY

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Care Indeed expects all employees to conduct themselves and company business in a manner that reflects the highest standards of ethical conduct and in accordance with all federal, state, and local laws and regulations. This includes avoiding real and potential conflicts of interest.

Exactly what constitutes a conflict of interest or unethical business practice is both a moral and a legal question. Care Indeed recognizes and respects the individual employee's right to engage in activities outside of employment that is private in nature and do not in any way conflict with or reflect poorly on the company.

It is not possible to define all the circumstances and relationships that might create a conflict of interest. If a situation arises in which there is a potential conflict of interest, the employee should discuss this with a manager for advice and guidance on how to proceed. The list below suggests some of the types of activities that indicate improper behavior, unacceptable personal integrity, or unacceptable ethics:

1. Accepting gifts worth more than $10 or excessive entertainment from a client or an outside organization or agency;
2. Participating in civic or professional organization activities in a manner that divulges confidential company information;
3. Misusing privileged information or revealing confidential data to outsiders;
4. Using one's position in the company or knowledge of its affairs for personal gains

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

The protection of confidential business information, client information, and trade secrets are vital to the interests and success of Care Indeed. Confidential information is any and all information disclosed to or known by you because of employment with the company that is not generally known to people outside the company about its business and clients. It is Care Indeed's policy that all confidential information be treated with the utmost care and not divulged unless approved.

This provision is not intended to, and should not be interpreted to, prohibit employees from discussing wages and other terms and conditions of employment if they so choose.

CLIENT ABUSE & NEGLECT

A process is established for the identification of potential or actual victims of abuse/neglect. It is the policy of CIHHC that our clinicians assess all patients for potential or actual abuse/neglect and report all suspected issues to CIHHC and appropriate authorities per state regulations.

The process of assessment and identification of clients vulnerable to abuse is addressed during orientation. All care providers are instructed to report any suspicions of patient abuse/neglect to CIHHC, including self-abuse/neglect. Care providers must also report all suspected abuse/neglect according to state regulations. Confidentiality is maintained for all suspected clients of abuse/neglect investigations. Any employee involved in client abuse/neglect will have disciplinary action taken per policy and procedure according to state and professional licensing regulations.

CONTACT WITH MEDIA

All media inquiries regarding the company and its operations must be referred to the individual authorized to make or approve public statements on behalf of the company. No employees, unless specifically designated by the company, are authorized to make statements on behalf of or as a representative of the company. All inquiries from the media must be referred to the Marketing Department or C-Suites Executives.

ACCESS TO PERSONNEL FILES

Employee files are maintained by the HR department and are considered confidential. Managers and supervisors may only have access to personnel file information on a need-to-know basis. Employees, past or present, may inspect their own personnel files and request copies thereof but may not remove documents from their files. Inspections by employees must be requested in writing to the HR department and will be scheduled at a mutually convenient time or as required under state law. Representatives of government or law enforcement agencies, in the course of their duties, may be allowed access to file information.

Upon request, employees may inspect their own personnel files at a mutually agreeable time, on company premises in the presence of a company official. You will be permitted to see any records regarding your qualification for employment, promotion, wage increases, or discipline. Employees may also request copies of the records but will have to pay for the cost of copying and/or mailing.

For more information, contact Human Resources.

CLIENT & PUBLIC RELATIONS

Our company's reputation is built on excellent service and quality work. Maintaining this reputation requires the active participation of every employee.

The opinions and attitudes that clients have toward our company may be determined for a long period of time by the actions of one employee. It is sometimes easy to take a client for granted, but if we do we run the risk of losing not only that client but his or her associates, friends, or family who may also be clients or prospective clients.

Each employee must be sensitive to the importance of providing courteous treatment in all working relationships.

WORKPLACE SAFETY

DRUG-FREE AND ALCOHOL-FREE WORKPLACE

It is the policy of Care Indeed to maintain a drug- and alcohol-free work environment that is safe and productive for employees and others having business with the company.

The unlawful use, possession, purchase, sale, or distribution of or being under the influence of any illegal drug (including medical marijuana) while on company or client premises or while performing services for the company is strictly prohibited. Care Indeed also prohibits reporting to work or performing services under the influence of alcohol or consuming alcohol while on duty or during work hours. In addition, Care Indeed prohibits off-premises abuse of alcohol and controlled substances (including medical marijuana), as well as the possession, use, or sale of illegal drugs, when these activities adversely affect job performance, job safety, or the company's reputation in the community.

To ensure compliance with this policy, substance abuse screening may be conducted in the following situations:

Pre-Employment: as required by the company for all prospective employees who receive a conditional offer of employment

For cause: upon reasonable suspicion that the employee is under the influence of alcohol or drugs that could affect or have adversely affected the employee's job performance

Random: as authorized or required by federal or state law

Compliance with this policy is a condition of employment. Employees who test positive or who refuse to submit to substance abuse screening will be subject to termination. This policy will always be enforced in accordance with applicable state and local law.

Any employee violating this policy is subject to discipline, up to and including termination, for the first offense.

EACH EMPLOYEE'S RESPONSIBILITY

Safety can only be achieved through teamwork at our company. Each employee, supervisor, and manager must practice safety awareness by thinking defensively, anticipating unsafe situations, and reporting unsafe conditions immediately.

Please observe the following precautions:

- Notify your supervisor of any emergency situation. If you are injured or become sick at work, no matter how slightly, you must inform your supervisor immediately.
- Use, adjust and repair machines and equipment only if you are trained and qualified.
- Know the proper lifting procedures. Get help when lifting or pushing heavy objects.
- Understand your job fully and follow instructions. If you are not sure of the safe procedure, don't guess; just ask your supervisor.
- Know the locations, contents, and use of first aid and firefighting equipment.
- Comply with OSHA standards and/or applicable state job safety and health standards as written in our safety procedures manual.
- A violation of a safety precaution is in itself an unsafe act. A violation may lead to disciplinary action, up to and including discharge.

EMPLOYEE EXPOSURE TO BLOOD-BORNE PATHOGENS

It is the policy of the Company to comply with all standards mandated by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA), the State Department of Public Health, and the local county health departments for occupational exposure to bloodborne pathogens.

In compliance with the final ruling from OSHA on blood-borne pathogens, the Company offers the Hepatitis B vaccine at no cost and at a reasonable time and location to all employees identified in "at risk" job classifications where exposure may occur. While the Company is obligated to offer the vaccine, you may choose to accept or decline the offer. If you wish to receive the Hepatitis B vaccine, it will be available to you after you have received the required training and within ten (10) working days of an initial assignment.

If you decline the Hepatitis B vaccine because you have previously received the complete Hepatitis B vaccination series, antibody testing has revealed that you are immune, the vaccine is contraindicated for medical reasons and you have documentation to confirm the information, or you personally prefer not to accept the vaccine, you must sign the appropriate forms. The Company offers the vaccination to any employee at risk who initially declines to accept the Hepatitis B vaccination and at a later date decides to accept the vaccination.

FIRST REPORT OF INJURY

If you are injured on the job, you are required to call the office immediately and we will arrange for a call with the Nurse Triage and proceed as advised. Depending on the severity of the injury, a call to 911 may be more appropriate.

EMPLOYMENT RELATIONSHIP

EMPLOYEE PRIVACY

It is Care Indeed's goal to respect the individual privacy of its employees and at the same time maintain a safe and secure workplace. When issues of safety and security arise, you may be requested to cooperate with an investigation. The investigation may include the following procedures to safeguard the company and its employees: searches of personal belongings, searches of work areas, and searches of private vehicles on company premises by law enforcement. Failure to cooperate with an investigation when absolutely necessary is grounds for termination. Providing false information during any investigation may lead to discipline, including termination.

Employees are expected to make use of company facilities only for the business purposes of the company. Accordingly, materials that appear on company hardware or networks are presumed to be for business purposes, and all such materials are subject to review by the company at any time without notice to the employees. Employees do not have to have any expectation of privacy with respect to any material on company technology. Care Indeed regularly monitors its communications systems and networks as allowed by law. Monitored activity may include voice, e-mail, and text communications, as well as Internet search and browsing history. Employees who make excessive use of the communications system for personal matters are subject to discipline. Employees are expected to keep personal communication to a minimum in emergency situations.

Video surveillance. As part of its security measures and to help ensure a safe workplace, Care Indeed has positioned video cameras to monitor various areas of its facilities. Video cameras will not be used in private areas, such as break rooms, restrooms, locker/dressing rooms, etc. Videotapes will not include an audio component.

PRIVACY—SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBERS

POLICY AND PROCEDURE REGARDING USE AND DISCLOSURE OF SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBERS

It is Care Indeed's policy that Social Security numbers obtained from employees, vendors, contractors, customers, or others are confidential information.

Social Security numbers will be obtained, retained, used, and disposed of only for legitimate business reasons and in accordance with the law and this policy.

Documents or other records containing employee Social Security numbers generally will be requested, obtained, or created only for legitimate business reasons consistent with this policy. For example, Social Security numbers may be requested from employees for tax reporting purposes (i.e., Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Form W-4), for new hire reporting, or for purposes of enrollment in the company's employee benefit plans.

All records containing Social Security numbers (whether partial or complete) will be maintained in secure, confidential files with limited access.

Any employee who obtains, uses, or discloses Social Security numbers for unauthorized purposes or contrary to the requirements of this policy and procedure may be disciplined, up to and including discharge. The company will cooperate with government investigations of any person alleged to have obtained, used, or disclosed Social Security numbers for unlawful purposes.

EMPLOYMENT CLASSIFICATION

Exempt/Non-Exempt - Each employee will be informed when hired whether they are non-exempt or exempt employees. These categories refer to whether the employee is eligible for overtime pay. The EXEMPT category applies to certain professional, administrative, and executive staff. The NON-EXEMPT category applies to all other employees. Non-exempt employees receive extra pay for overtime work (as described in the overtime section of this Handbook). Exempt employees' salaries already take into account that they sometimes work long hours.

Full-Time Employees - A regular full-time employee who is regularly scheduled to work in excess of thirty (30) hours per week. Unless stated otherwise, all the benefits provided to employees are for regular full-time employees only. This includes paid time off, holiday pay, health insurance, and other benefits coverage.

Part-Time Employees - Any employee who works less than Thirty (30) hours per week is considered a part-time employee. Part-time employees are not eligible for Company benefits unless specified otherwise in this handbook or in the benefit plan summaries.

Per Diem Employees - Per Diem employees are “on-call” employees. “On Call” employees work on an as-needed, on-call basis. Per Diem employees are not eligible to participate in offered health and welfare and paid time off programs.

Temporary or Contract Employee - Temporary employees are hired for a specific period or specific work project, not to exceed 3 months in duration, positions may include summer help or other temporary assignments, are hired as temporary or contract employees and are not eligible for participation in employee benefits, such as medical, dental, life insurance, etc. Temporary hires that are hired for a full-time position will become eligible for all employee benefits (accruing from your date of full-time hire) only after becoming a regular full-time employee upon written notice by the Company.

The Company reserves the right to extend the duration of temporary employment where necessary.

WORKWEEK AND HOURS OF WORK

The standard workweek is from Sunday 12:00 a.m. until Saturday at 11:59 p.m. and generally consists of 40 work hours.

MEAL AND REST BREAKS

Given the nature of your work where taking regularly scheduled breaks may not be possible, employees are expected to exercise proper judgment and, when appropriate, such breaks shall not exceed two ten-minute periods during an eight-hour shift. An employee may not leave the client's household (or assisted living facility) during the paid breaks.

A normal full-time shift is 8 hours. Employees working this shift are entitled to a 30-minute unpaid meal break if working in a facility unless otherwise agreed upon. Employees who need to be on duty during their meal break will work an 8-hour shift where the 30-minute meal break is paid. Rest or meal breaks cannot be used to shorten the work day in any way by arriving late or leaving early from a shift. In the absence of a fixed meal break determined by the client or facility, employees need to communicate with them when they are on a meal break.

TIME RECORDS

Employees must adhere to their set schedules and clock in and out using the ClearCare Go app.

SALARIES AND WAGES

Salaries and/or wages shall be determined at the time of employment.

OVERTIME

There may be times when you will need to work overtime so that we may meet the needs of our clients. Although you will be given advance notice when feasible, this may not always be possible.

Non-exempt employees must have all overtime approved in advance by their supervisor.

Non-exempt employees will be paid at a rate of time and one-half their regular hourly rate for hours worked in excess of 8 hours in a day and or 40 hours in a workweek, unless state law provides otherwise.

For the purpose of calculating overtime, shifts that span from one day to the next may not qualify depending on the number of hours worked per designated workday. For example, a shift that begins at 8 pm and continues to 6 am the following morning would be divided into one 4 hour shift (8 pm-11:59 pm) and one 6-hour shift (12 am - 6 am) and therefore not be eligible for overtime pay.

INSERVICE EDUCATION

Twelve hours of inservice education is required annually to maintain employment. Inservice instruction/lecture, videotapes, and quizzes are available at the office and can be viewed, by appointment, at your convenience, or may be requested to be sent online. Attendance of any inservices offered at our office or by third parties will be documented and be part of each employee's file.

DEDUCTIONS FROM PAY/SAFE HARBOR

Care Indeed does not make improper deductions from the salaries of exempt employees and complies with the salary basis requirements of the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA). Employees classified as exempt from the overtime pay requirements of the FLSA will be notified of this classification at the time of hire or change in position.

Permitted deductions. The FLSA limits the types of deductions that may be made from the pay of an exempt employee. Deductions that are permitted include:

- Deductions that are required by law, e.g., income taxes;
- Deductions for employee benefits when authorized by the employee;
- Absence from work for 1 or more full days for personal reasons other than sickness or disability;
- Absence from work for 1 or more full days due to sickness or disability if the deduction is made in accordance with a bona fide plan, policy, or practice of providing compensation for salary lost due to illness;
- Offset for amounts received as a witness or jury fees or for military pay;
- Unpaid disciplinary suspensions of 1 or more full days imposed in good faith for workplace conduct rule infractions; and
- Any full workweek in which the employee does not perform any work.

During the week an exempt employee begins work for the company or during the last week of employment, the employee will only be paid for actual hours worked. In addition, an employee may be paid only for hours worked during a period when the employee is using unpaid leave under the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA).

Improper deductions. If an employee exempt or non-exempt believes that an improper deduction has been taken from the employee's pay, the employee should immediately report the deduction to the HR department. The report will be promptly investigated, and if it is found that an improper deduction has been made, the company will reimburse the employee for the improper deduction.

PAYCHECKS

Care Indeed's pay period for all employees is weekly, on Fridays. If payday falls on a federal holiday, employees will receive their paycheck on the preceding workday. Paychecks are directly deposited into your checking and/or savings accounts.

EMPLOYMENT ELIGIBILITY VERIFICATION

This section applies to new hires of Care Indeed and existing employees of Care Indeed.

Offers of Employment are contingent upon satisfactorily completing the Form I-9 prior to the commencement of work with Care Indeed. Newly hired employees must comply with I-9 regulations and complete the form within 3 days of hire.

Federal law requires all employers to verify the identity and eligibility of all persons hired to work in the United States. Accordingly, Section 1 of the Form I-9 must be completed on an employee's first working day and all employees will be required to fully complete the I-9 verification process and produce the appropriate documentation within three business days of starting work. All offers of employment are contingent upon the candidate's fulfillment of this requirement and a failure to do so will result in termination.

As an E-Verify employer, Care Indeed will provide the Social Security Administration (SSA) and, if necessary, the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), with information from each new employee's Form I-9 to confirm work authorization. Employment eligibility verification through E-Verify will also be required for current employees who begin work on covered federal grants or contracts but were previously not entered into E-Verify.

Failure to comply with this and related policies is subject to disciplinary action, up to and including suspension without pay, or termination of employment or association with Care Indeed, in accordance with applicable disciplinary procedures.

WORKPLACE GUIDELINES

ATTENDANCE

All employees are expected to arrive on time, ready to work, every day they are scheduled to work. Employees are required to inform Care Indeed staff of any absences due to illness or emergencies by calling the 24/7 hotline. Excessive absenteeism or tardiness will result in discipline up to and including termination. Failure to show up or call in for a scheduled shift without prior approval also may result in discipline up to and including termination. If an employee fails to report to work or calls in to inform the supervisor of the absence for 3 consecutive days, the employee will be considered to have voluntarily resigned employment.

JOB PERFORMANCE

Your performance is important to our company. Once each year, on or about your anniversary date, your supervisor will review your job progress within our company and help you set new job performance plans.

Our performance review program provides the basis for better understanding between you and your supervisor, with respect to your job performance, potential, and development within the company.

New employees will generally be reviewed after 90 days of employment.

HOLIDAYS

The company observes and allows time off with pay for the following holidays:

- New Year's Day
- Presidents' Day
- Memorial Day
- Independence Day
- Labor Day
- Thanksgiving Day
- Christmas Day

Employees who do perform work on a recognized holiday will be paid time and one-half their regular rate of pay.

Any additional holidays will be designated by the company at the start of each calendar year.

Please reach out to your manager or to HR with any questions.

OUTSIDE EMPLOYMENT

Employees with a second job are expected to work their assigned schedules. A second job will not be considered an excuse for poor job performance, absenteeism, tardiness, leaving early, refusal to travel, or refusal to work overtime or different hours. In addition, employees who have accepted outside employment may not use paid sick time to work on the outside job. However, an employee on a leave of absence may continue to work in the outside job if this employment has been approved by the company under this policy and the employee's reason for leave does not preclude the outside employment.

If outside work activity causes or contributes to job-related problems, it must be discontinued, or the employee may be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

DRESS AND GROOMING

To maintain a professional environment, employees are expected to be clean, well-groomed, and appropriately dressed at all times. Clean and proper attire is to be worn. Additionally, it is important for all employees to select clothing and footwear that is appropriate for the position (i.e., pants instead of skirts for ease of mobility). No jewelry except a wedding band or engagement ring, watch or small earrings is to be worn. Proper attire is defined as no stains, holes, or rips in clothing, and proper undergarments are to be worn at all times. Fingernails are to be kept neatly manicured and short, i.e. should not extend past the tip of the finger. Avoid using scented products and be mindful of fragrance sensitivities in the workplace.

SOCIAL MEDIA ACCEPTABLE USE

Care Indeed encourages employees to share information with coworkers and with those outside the company for the purposes of gathering information, generating new ideas, and learning from the work of others. Social media provides inexpensive, informal, and timely ways to participate in an exchange of ideas and information. However, information posted on a website is available to the public, and therefore, the company has established the following guidelines for employee participation in social media.

Note: As used in this policy, “social media” refers to blogs, forums, and social networking sites, such as Twitter, Facebook, LinkedIn, YouTube, Instagram, and Snapchat, among others.

Off-duty use of social media. Employees may maintain personal websites or blogs on their own time using their own facilities. Employees must ensure that social media activity does not interfere with their work. In general, the company considers social media activities to be personal endeavors, and employees may use them to express their thoughts or promote their ideas. In addition, employees may not post on a personal blog or webpage or participate on a social networking platform for personal purposes during work time or at any time with Care Indeed equipment or property.

On-duty use of social media. Employees may engage in social media activity during work time provided it is directly related to their work and approved by their manager and does not identify or reference company clients, customers, or vendors without express permission. The company monitors employee use of company computers and the Internet, including employee blogging and social networking activity.

Respect. Demonstrate respect for the dignity of the company, its owners, its customers, its vendors, and its employees. A social media site is a public place, and employees should avoid inappropriate comments. For example, employees should not divulge Care Indeed confidential information such as trade secrets, client lists, or information restricted from disclosure by law on social media sites. Similarly, employees should not engage in harassing or discriminatory behavior that targets other employees or individuals because of their protected class status or make defamatory comments or engage in other behavior that violates the company's policies.

Post disclaimers. Employees who identify themselves as company employees or discuss matters related to the company on a social media site must include a disclaimer on the front page stating that it does not express the views of the company and that the employees are expressing only personal views—for example: "The views expressed on this website/Weblog are mine alone and do not necessarily reflect the views of my employer." Place the disclaimer in a prominent position, and repeat it for each posting expressing an opinion related to the company or the company's business. Employees must keep in mind that if they post information on a social media site that is in violation of company policy and/or federal, state, or local law, the disclaimer will not shield them from disciplinary action.

Competition. Employees should not use social media to criticize the company's competition and should not use it to compete with the company.

Confidentiality. Do not identify or reference company clients, customers, or vendors without express permission. Employees may write about their jobs in general but may not disclose any confidential or proprietary information. For examples of confidential information, please refer to the confidentiality policy. When in doubt, ask before publishing.

New ideas. Please remember that new ideas related to work or the company's business belong to the company. Do not post them on a social media site without the company's permission.

Trademarks and copyrights. Do not use the company's or others' trademarks on a social media site or reproduce the company's or others' material without first obtaining permission.

Legal. Employees are expected to comply with all applicable laws, including, but not limited to, Federal Trade Commission (FTC) guidelines and copyright, trademark, and harassment laws.

Discipline. Violations of this policy may result in discipline up to and including immediate termination of employment.

Nothing in this policy is meant to, nor should it be interpreted to, in any way limit your rights under any applicable federal, state, or local laws, including your rights under the NLRA to engage in protected concerted activities with other employees to improve or discuss terms and conditions of employment, such as wages, working conditions, and benefits. Employees have the right to engage in or refrain from such activities.

DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURE

The company expects employees to comply with the company's standards of behavior and performance and to correct any noncompliance with these standards.

Under normal circumstances, the company endorses a policy of progressive discipline in which it attempts to provide employees with notice of deficiencies and an opportunity to improve. It does, however, retain the right to administer discipline in any manner it sees fit. This policy does not modify the status of employees as employees at will or in any way restrict the company's right to bypass the disciplinary procedures suggested.

The following steps are suggested in the discipline procedure. All steps will be documented in the employee's personnel file.

Step 1: Informal Discussion. When a performance problem is first identified, the nature of the problem and the action necessary to correct it will be thoroughly discussed with the employee.

Step 2: Counseling. If a private informal discussion with the employee has not resulted in corrective action, following a thorough investigation, the supervisor will meet with the employee and (a) review the problem, (b) permit the employee to present information regarding the problem, (c) advise the employee that the problem must be corrected, (d) inform the employee that failure to correct the problem will result in further disciplinary action that may include discharge, and (e) issue a counseling notice to the employee.

Step 3: Reprimand. If satisfactory performance and corrective action are not achieved under Steps 1 and 2, the supervisor and a representative from the HR department will meet with the employee in private and proceed via (a) through (d) above and issue a reprimand notice to the employee.

Step 4: Suspension. Supervisors have the authority to temporarily remove employees from the workplace, with or without pay, if approved in advance by the Department Manager or HR Manager. An exempt employee generally may not be suspended without pay for less than a full day, and the suspension must be related to written workplace conduct rules applicable to all employees, such as a written policy prohibiting sexual harassment or workplace violence.

Step 5: Failure to improve. Failure to improve performance or behavior after the written warning or suspension can result in termination.

The progressive disciplinary procedures described above also may be applied to an employee who is experiencing a series of unrelated problems involving job performance or behavior.

In cases involving serious misconduct, or any time the supervisor determines it is necessary, such as a major breach of policy or violation of law, the procedures contained above may be disregarded. Typically, the supervisor will suspend the employee immediately (with or without pay), and an investigation of the incidents leading up to the suspension should be conducted to determine if any further action, such as termination, should be taken.

LEAVES AND TIME OFF

CIHHC recognizes employees who work hard and need time away from work to relax and have fun.

UNPAID TIME OFF

Submit time off requests through ADP at least two weeks in advance to your supervisor. The request for time off is granted or denied after taking into account the operating requirements.

CIHHC will make reasonable efforts to return you to the same or similar job you held prior to the time off, subject to our staffing and business requirements.

PAID SICK LEAVE

All employees who have completed 30 days of service will accrue up to a maximum of forty-eight (48) hours of paid sick leave per year, at the rate of 1 hour for every 30 hours worked, to care for themselves or ill family members, including registered domestic partners. The eligible employees may use only 24 hours or 3 days of paid sick leave within each calendar year.

Employees who are absent for more than three (3) consecutive workdays will be required to provide a doctor's statement certifying the reason for absence. Employees who are medically unable to work for eight or more consecutive calendar days may be eligible to receive State Disability benefits. The Company provides all employees sick pay benefits for the actual illness or injury of an employee, and to care for the employee's spouse, domestic partner, parent, sibling, children, grandchild, or grandparent. Paid sick leave also may be used for doctor appointments, preventative care, and by victims of domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking to obtain relief, including medical attention and psychological counseling.

Unused sick pay for all employees is carried over from year to year. The maximum cap for carrying over to the following year is 48 hours or 6 days.

However, employees are not paid in lieu of taking the actual time off. Furthermore, employees are not paid for earned but unused sick days upon discharge.

If the need for sick leave is foreseeable, employees are required to give at least a 30-day advance notice (e.g., a planned medical treatment) whenever possible. If the need for sick leave is not foreseeable, employees are asked to notify their supervisor as soon as is practical.

Except as required by state law, unused sick days are forfeited when an employee's employment ends for any reason.

FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE

Care Indeed complies with the federal FMLA, which requires employers to grant unpaid leaves of absence to qualified workers for certain medical and family-related reasons. The company also abides by state and local leave laws. The more generous of the laws will apply to the employee if the employee is eligible under both federal and state laws.

Please note there are many requirements, qualifications, and exceptions under these laws, and each employee's situation is different. Contact the HR department to discuss options for leave.

The FMLA requires private employers with 50 or more employees and all public agencies, including state, local, and federal employers, and local education agencies (schools) to provide eligible employees up to 12 weeks of unpaid, job-protected leave in any 12-month period for certain family and medical reasons. The 12-month period is a rolling period measured backward from the date an employee uses any FMLA leave, except for leaves to care for a covered servicemember with a serious illness or injury. For those leaves, the leave entitlement is 26 weeks in a single 12-month period measured forward from the date an employee first takes that type of leave.

BASIC LEAVE ENTITLEMENT

The FMLA requires covered employers to provide up to 12 weeks of unpaid, job-protected leave to eligible employees for the following reasons: (1) for incapacity due to pregnancy, prenatal medical care, or childbirth; (2) to care for the employee's child after birth or placement for adoption or foster care; (3) to care for the employee's spouse, child, or parent who has a serious health condition; or (4) for a serious health condition that makes the employee unable to work.

Military family leave entitlements. Eligible employees with a spouse, child, or parent on active duty or called to active duty status in the National Guard or Reserves in support of a contingency operation may use their 12-week leave entitlement to address certain qualifying exigencies. Qualifying exigencies may include addressing issues that arise from (1) short notice of deployment (limited to up to 7 days of leave); (2) attending certain military events and related activities; (3) arranging child care and school activities; (4) addressing certain financial and legal arrangements; (5) attending certain counseling sessions; (6) spending time with covered military family members on short-term temporary rest and recuperation leave (limited to up to 5 days of leave); (7) attending post-deployment reintegration briefings; (8) arranging care for or providing care to a parent who is incapable of self-care; and (9) any additional activities agreed upon by the employer and employee that arise out of the military member's active duty or call to active duty.

The FMLA also includes a special leave entitlement that permits eligible employees to take up to 26 weeks of leave to care for a covered servicemember during a single 12-month period. A covered servicemember is a current member of the armed forces, including a member of the National Guard or reserves, who has a serious injury or illness incurred in the line of duty on active duty that may render the servicemember medically unfit to perform the duties of the servicemember's office, grade, rank, or rating and for which the servicemember is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy; is in outpatient status, or is on the temporary disability retired list.

Benefits and protections during FMLA leave. During FMLA leave, the company will maintain the employee's health coverage under any "group health plan" on the same terms as if the employee had continued to work. Upon return from FMLA leaves, most employees will be restored to their original or equivalent positions with equivalent pay, benefits, and other employment terms. However, an employee on FMLA leave does not have any greater right to reinstatement or to other benefits and conditions of employment than if the employee had been continuously employed during the FMLA leave period.

Certain highly compensated key employees also may be denied reinstatement when necessary to prevent "substantial and grievous economic injury" to the company's operations. A "key" employee is an eligible salaried employee who is among the highest-paid 10 percent of the company's employees within 75 miles of the worksite. Employees will be notified of their status as key employees, when applicable after they request FMLA leave.

Use of FMLA leave cannot result in the loss of any employment benefit that accrued before the start of an employee's leave.

Employee eligibility. The FMLA defines eligible employees as employees who (1) have worked for the company for at least 12 months; (2) have worked for the company for at least 1,250 hours in the previous 12 months; and (3) work at or report to a worksite that has 50 or more employees or is within 75 miles of company worksites that, taken together, have a total of 50 or more employees.

Subject to certain conditions, the continuing treatment requirement may be met by a period of incapacity of more than 3 consecutive calendar days combined with at least 2 visits to a healthcare provider or 1 visit and a regimen of continuing treatment, incapacity due to pregnancy, or incapacity due to a chronic condition. Other conditions may meet the definition of “continuing treatment.”

Use of leave. An employee does not need to use this leave entitlement in one block. Leave can be taken intermittently or on a reduced work schedule when medically necessary. Employees must make reasonable efforts to schedule leave for planned medical treatment so as not to unduly disrupt the employer’s operations. Leave due to qualifying exigencies also may be taken on an intermittent or a reduced work schedule basis.

Substitution of paid leave for unpaid leave. Employees may choose or employers may require the use of accrued paid leave while taking FMLA leave. Accordingly, the company requires employees to use any accrued Paid Time Off (PTO) during an unpaid FMLA leave taken because of the employee's own serious health condition or the serious health condition of a family member or to care for a seriously ill or injured family member in the military. In addition, employees must use any accrued PTO during FMLA leave taken to care for a newborn or newly placed child or for a qualifying exigency arising out of a family member’s active duty or call to active-duty status in support of a contingency operation. In order to use paid leave for FMLA leave, employees must comply with the company’s normal paid leave procedures found in its Leaves and Time Off policies.

Employee responsibilities. Employees must provide 30-day advance notice of the need to take FMLA leave when the need is foreseeable. When 30 days’ notice is not possible, employees must provide notice as soon as practicable and generally must comply with the company’s normal call-in procedures. The company may delay leave to employees who do not provide proper advance notice of the foreseeable need for leave, absent unusual circumstances preventing the notice.

Employees must provide sufficient information for the company to determine if the leave may qualify for FMLA protection and the anticipated timing and duration of the leave. Sufficient information may include that the employee is unable to perform job functions, the family member is unable to perform daily activities, the need for hospitalization or continuing treatment by a healthcare provider, or circumstances supporting the need for military family leave. Employees also must inform the company if the requested leave is for a reason for which FMLA leave was previously taken or certified. Employees also are required to provide a certification and periodic recertification supporting the need for leave. The company also may require a second and, if necessary, a third opinion (at the company’s expense) and, when the leave is a result of the employee’s own serious health condition, a fitness-for-duty report to return to work. The company also may delay or deny approval of leave for lack of proper medical certification.

The company will inform employees if leave will be designated as FMLA-protected and the amount of leave counted against the employee's FMLA leave entitlement. If the company determines that the leave is not FMLA-protected, the company will notify the employees.

Other provisions. Under an exception to the FLSA in the FMLA regulations, hourly amounts may be deducted for unpaid leave from the salary of executive, administrative, and professional employees; outside sales representatives; certain highly skilled computer professionals; and certain highly compensated employees who are exempt from the minimum wage and overtime requirements of the FLSA, without affecting the employees' exempt status. This special exception to the "salary basis" requirements for the FLSA's exemptions extends only to eligible employees' use of FMLA leave.

Employees may not perform work for self-employment or for any other employer during an approved leave of absence, except when the leave is for military or public service or when the company has approved the employment under its Outside Employment policy and the employees' reason for FMLA leave does not preclude the outside employment.

Unlawful acts by employers. The FMLA makes it unlawful for any employer (1) to interfere with, restrain, or deny the exercise of any right provided under the FMLA or (2) to discharge or discriminate against any person for opposing any practice made unlawful by the FMLA or for involvement in any proceeding under or relating to the FMLA.

Enforcement. An employee may file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Labor or may bring a private lawsuit against an employer.

The FMLA does not affect any federal or state law prohibiting discrimination or supersede any state or local law or collective bargaining agreement that provides greater family or medical leave rights.

CALIFORNIA STATE DISABILITY LEAVE

California provides short-term wage replacement benefits to eligible California workers who have a loss of wages when they are unable to work due to a non-work-related illness, injury, or pregnancy.

Disability Insurance does not provide job protection, only monetary benefits; however, your job may be protected through other federal or state laws such as the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) or the California Family Rights Act (CFRA).

Disability is an illness or injury, either physical or mental, which prevents you from performing your regular and customary work. Disability also includes elective surgery, pregnancy, childbirth, or other related medical conditions.

Citizenship and immigration status does not affect eligibility. Care Indeed will be notified if an employee has submitted a DI claim. However, your medical information is confidential and the state will not be sharing it with Care Indeed.

Please contact the respective manager or Human Resource Department for further information regarding filing for State Disability Insurance through the Employment Development Department.

CALIFORNIA PAID FAMILY LEAVE

All employees are covered by Paid Family Leave (PFL) benefits and can receive partial wage replacement for up to eight weeks in any twelve (12) month period.

To be eligible for PFL benefits, an employee needs to be unable to work, or only able to work a reduced schedule, because they need to care for a seriously ill or injured family member or to bond with a newborn, newly adopted child, or newly placed foster child or to participate in a qualifying event due to a family member's military deployment. Benefits typically equal sixty (60) to seventy (70) percent of an employee's earned wages in the highest quarter of their base period.

The employer can require their employees to take up to two weeks of accrued and unused vacation or paid time off before utilizing PFL. Employees may also elect to use accrued PTO to supplement PFL benefits. Combined PFL benefits and paid leave can be up to 100% of normal wages but cannot be more than normal wages. If the employee is receiving benefits for SDI, unemployment compensation, or Worker's Compensation, they are ineligible to receive PFL benefits at the same time.

In addition, it is important to know the interaction between State Disability Insurance (SDI), Paid Disability Leave (PDL), and Paid Family Leave (PFL) for pregnant employees. An employee out on PDL can collect SDI benefits during this time. Once she is no longer disabled because of her pregnancy, she will stop collecting SDI benefits and can receive PFL benefits while on CFRA.

MILITARY LEAVE

Care Indeed supports the military obligations of all employees and grants leaves for uniformed service in accordance with applicable federal and state laws. Any employee who needs time off for uniformed service should immediately notify the HR department and the employee's supervisor, who will provide details regarding the leave. If an employee is unable to provide notice before leaving for uniformed service, a family member should notify the supervisor as soon as possible.

Upon return from military leave, employees will be granted the same seniority, pay, and benefits as if they had worked continuously. Failure to report for work within the prescribed time after completion of military service will be considered a voluntary termination.

All employees who enter military service may accumulate a total absence of 5 years and still retain employment rights.

JURY DUTY/COURT APPEARANCE

Employees who are called for jury duty, or subpoenaed to testify as a witness, will be given unpaid leave to fulfill their civic obligations. Upon receipt of a proposed jury summons, juror questionnaire, or subpoena to testify, employees should notify the Human Resources Department. If you are called as a juror on a day scheduled with a sensitive case, we may ask you to request the court to postpone your jury duty to a more convenient time.

In addition, employees may use accrued paid time off for any unpaid jury or witness duty leave. No deductions will be made for partial workweek absence due to jury or witness duty from the salary of exempt employees who have exhausted their paid leave or who are ineligible for paid leave. Employees who are released from jury or witness duty before the end of their regular workday must report to work for the remainder of the workday, if practicable.

LACTATION ACCOMMODATION

Care Indeed provides a reasonable amount of break time to accommodate an employee's need to express breast milk for the employee's infant child. The company will make a reasonable effort to provide the employee with the use of a room or other location in close proximity to the employee's work area for the employee to express milk in private. Such space will meet the requirements of the California Labor Code including a surface to place a breast pump and personal items, a place to sit, access to electricity, a sink with running water, and a refrigerator for storing breast milk. Reach out to the Human Resources Department for assistance.

BENEFITS

MEDICAL, DENTAL, VISION, AND LIFE INSURANCE

Full-time employees working 30 hours or more per week are eligible for insurance on the first of the month following 3 months of waiting time while the stability period is in effect for 6 months. To keep coverage in force, every insured employee must work a minimum of 30 hours per week on average.

401(K) PLAN

Care Indeed recognizes the importance of saving for retirement and offers eligible employees a 401(k) plan. Eligibility, vesting, and all other matters relating to these plans are explained in the Summary Plan Description (SPD) that can be obtained from Human Resources.

WORKERS' COMPENSATION

Workers' compensation is a "no-fault" system that provides compensation for medical expenses and wage losses to employees who are injured or who become ill because of employment.

Care Indeed pays the entire cost of workers' compensation insurance. The insurance provides coverage for related medical and rehabilitation expenses and a portion of lost wages to employees who sustain an injury on the job.

The company abides by all applicable state workers' compensation laws and regulations. If an employee sustains a job-related injury or illness, it is important to notify the supervisor and HR immediately. The supervisor will complete an injury report with input from the employee and return the form to the Human Resources department. Human Resources will file the claim with the insurance company. In cases of true medical emergencies, report to the nearest emergency room.

Workers' compensation benefits (paid or unpaid) will run concurrently with FMLA leave, if applicable, where permitted by state and federal law. In addition, employees will not be paid vacation or sick leave (remove) for approved absences covered by the company's workers' compensation program, except to supplement the workers' compensation benefits such as when the plan only covers a portion of the employees' salary as allowed by state law.

EMPLOYEE HANDBOOK ACKNOWLEDGMENT AND RECEIPT

I hereby acknowledge receipt of the employee handbook of Care Indeed. I understand and agree that it is my responsibility to read and comply with the policies in the handbook.

I understand that the handbook and all other written and oral materials provided to me are intended for informational purposes only. The handbook, company practices, and other communications do not create an employment contract or term. I understand that the policies and benefits, both in the handbook and those communicated to me in any other fashion, are subject to interpretation, review, removal, and change by management at any time without notice.

I further understand that I am an at-will employee and that neither this document nor any other communication shall bind the company to employ me now or hereafter and that my employment may be terminated by me or the company without reason at any time.
